Hi! I'm Ellen Gerstein- an actor, writer, director, producer, and an acting coach. For many years I have considered myself an advocate for inclusivity in the entertainment world. I believe that opportunity for individuals with unique special needs should be offered the same chances of success as everyone else.

What is different about my classes?

The classes are at a pace catered to the student's needs.

Shorter sessions for the student who needs less than an hour.

Breaks taken as needed to reduce a student from becoming overwhelmed.

Ellen offers the following:

Acting Classes: Group or Individual - In Person and Individual Virtually

Individual Coaching for Actors (In Person and Virtually)

Audition Preparation Coaching

Ellen Gerstein's acting workshop is one of inclusivity.

We pride our acting workshops on giving a warm, accepting, and inviting experience to all who are motivated to learn the art of acting. In return, Ellen treats each student with respect and professionalism.

rules & standards

Ellen Gerstein has the right to ask student's to leave the workshops who do not follow class rules - including a person not acting kindly, inclusively, with understanding, and accepting of other students and staff involved in the workshops.

A student who uses threatening, bullying, or vulgar language (that is not part of a script) or actions will be asked to leave the class immediately and permanently.

No refunds to those who break the class rules.
